Hi John,

I wanted to check in and see if you have had a chance to take a look at the proposed response to the reporter? After your review, I'm assuming it just goes to Angeles and Enrique, yes?

Thanks,
Michele

Subject: Media query - HPNS and Tiger Team - Chris Roberts

Lily was contacted by freelance reporter Chris Roberts this morning, and passed him along to me. As you may recall, he had sent some HPNS questions to us this past fall; here are a couple of his articles:

- SF Magazine: Faked Soil Samples Throw Hunters Point Shipyard Development into Disarray
<https://www.modernluxury.com/san-francisco/story/faked-soil-samples-throw-hunters-point-shipyard-development-disarray>
- SF Magazine: Trouble Below <https://www.modernluxury.com/san-francisco/story/trouble-below>

Here is his new request:

I wanted to reach out and see what the best way might be to secure documents presented at some ongoing meetings, at which EPA is an attendee, regarding the cleanup. About once a month, the Navy, EPA, and state and local authorities have been meeting at SF City Hall for "Tiger Team" meetings, organized by the SF Mayor's Office. The Navy is presenting updates at these meetings, as does EPA, according to some documents I've been able to retrieve. Wanted to see if I could see what the Navy and the EPA have been presenting. I've asked the Navy as well, but I know that EPA should have these documents, and so I wanted to ask here as well. Will you provide these documents, in electronic format, without the ceremony and headache of a FOIA? Let me know.

Lily is pulling together the documents that EPA has brought to the meetings; we can also provide a brief overview of what EPA's role at these meetings is, and direct him to Mayor's office and Navy for their info.

Deadline: "early next week"

Thanks,
Michele
